

Brand Guidelines

Introduction

Leicester Business Festival (LBF) is currently the regions largest business event and has been developed 'by business for business' since 2014 to put Leicester and Leicestershire front and centre of the UK's business agenda.

With a market reach of c.20million, the festival attracts tens of thousands of visitors to more than 100 events each year. The Festival's core objective to is to 'drive economic growth through inward investment for the benefit of the all those that live and work in Leicester and Leicestershire'.

LBF's brand is the leading 'voice' of this objective and its continued success and therefore to maintain the Leicester Business Festival (LBF) identity and its continued impact, it is vital to use its brand with clarity and consistency.

These guidelines have been created to assist you when working with the LBF brand and include accessible step-by-step guidance as to how to best use and maintain the brand under license.

The LBF brand is licensed for use by Leicester Business Festival C.i.C., who are registered in England and Wales. Please send any collateral featuring the LBF brand to hello@leicesterbusinessfestival.com for approval.

Should you require any help, assistance or clarification on any of the elements contained within these guidelines then please contact hello@leicesterbusinessfestival.com.

All collateral outlined within these guidelines can be downloaded at www.leicesterbusinessfestival.com/downloads

Room to Breathe - Logo

In order to ensure prominence, clarity and stand out value, it is important to position the logo with an adequate area of clear space between it and any other graphic elements or page parameters you may be using.

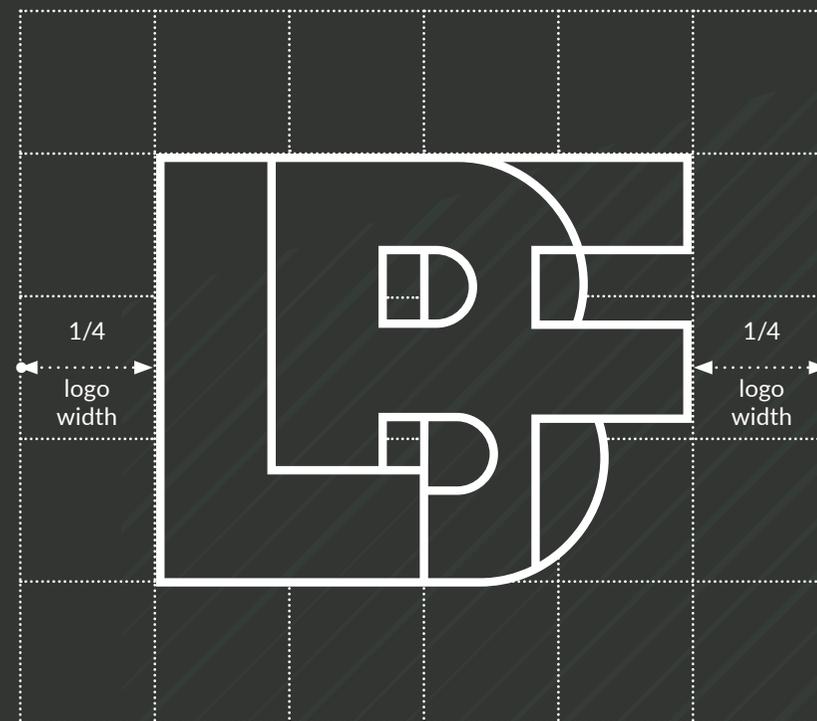

With the exception of backgrounds of flat colour or photographic images, type and other graphics should not encroach on the clearance zone. This area is determined to be one seventh of the width of the LBF logo as demonstrated here.

Room to Breathe - Icon

In order to ensure prominence, clarity and stand out value, it is important to position the icon with an adequate area of clear space between it and any other graphic elements or page parameters you may be using.

With the exception of backgrounds of flat colour or photographic images, type and other graphics should not encroach on the clearance zone. This area is determined to be one seventh of the width of the LBF icon as demonstrated here.

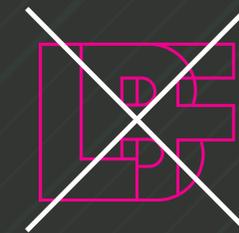

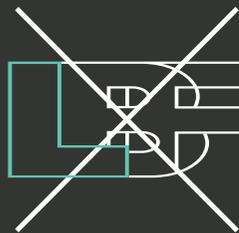

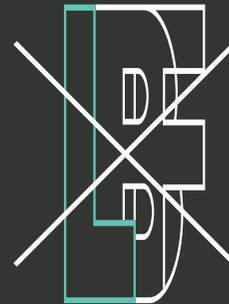

Unauthorised Logo & Icon Use

If you are thinking of adapting, changing or amending the logo or icon in any way, then please think again. Any amendment is not authorised under the terms and license of use for this brand.

Please always use the appropriate master artwork which is available from leicesterbusinessfestival.com.

There must be no distortions to the design (including drop shadows or any such textual effects). Changes to colour, rotation, perspective or shape are also strictly prohibited as is silo and independent use of the words within the logo ('Leicester Business Festival') from the logo.

If you require any specific adaptations to be made to any element, then you can request these by contacting hello@associate-events.com.

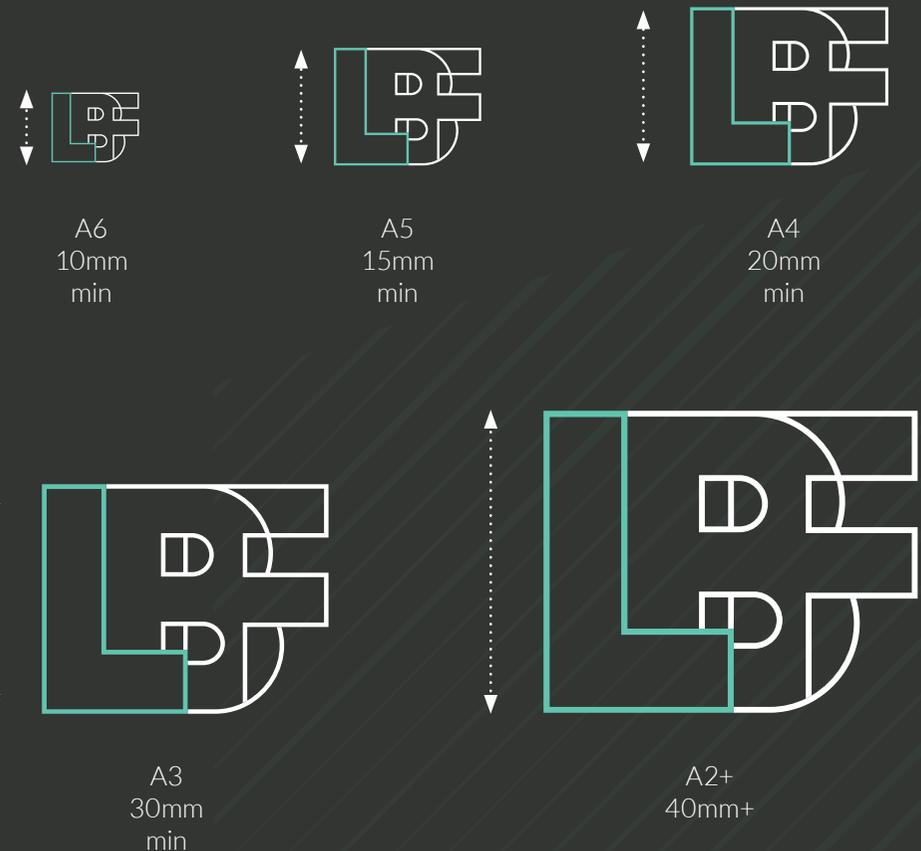

Size Matters

The legibility of the brand elements and the marquee should always be a primary consideration when reproducing a brand under license.

At small sizes, different print techniques or the substrate on which the marquee is applied will determine the visual effectiveness and so consideration should always be given to which version and size of the logo to use.

The smallest size the logo or icon should appear in is 10mm high.

Consideration should always be given to the marquee's size and position is of course, of the upmost importance. Please ensure that when resizing that any change is proportional.

Joint Branding

The LBF logo must never be used independently from the 'De Montfort University' (DMU) logo without express permission from hello@associate-events.com.

The DMU logo should always be the same width as the LBF logo, and should have a clearance zone equivalent to the 'U' in the DMU logo, around the entire mark.

The words 'Headline Partner' are always to appear directly between the two logos and should be centralized between the two logos.

Leicester Business Festival has a number of partners, supporters and sponsors with whom it partners and it has agreed association with.

Through use of the LBF brand you agree to display any and all of LBF's associated brands in the manner that is defined on leicesterbusinessfestival.com. Full imagery is available upon request.

Marketing Materials

In the same spirit as these guidelines have been developed, we understand that you will need to use the LBF brand alongside your own. This will inevitably mean tailoring it to your own guidelines, but please be mindful of how you do this in line with the elements outlined within this document.

All advertising and collateral that you develop that is associated with LBF must feature and conform to the main principles outlined within this document and always feature the logo (with LCBS's logo included) and/or the icon.

Any collateral developed should be informative, immediately eye-catching and 'on message' in order to advertise both your event and the festival itself. Please note, all messaging can be obtained at leicesterbusinessfestival.com.

To ensure your collateral is distinctive and effective, only include the necessary information and imagery, which is relevant and is of print quality (vector based and photography).

To aid you in this development of your own collateral, we will make various 'InDesign' templates available at leicesterbusinessfestival.com including:

- A0 - A5 (portrait & landscape)
- JC Decaux (6 sheet & 48 sheet)
- Pull-Up Roller Banner (2000mm by 800mm)
- Landscape and portrait advertising

Look & Feel

To give you an idea of how the LBF brand comes together, please refer to this page. This example uses the key LBF logo's, elements and marketing materials.

When promoting the Festival, please be mindful to keep in line with the look and feel of the LBF brand.
